

CBA students have the opportunity to join an array of professional and honors organizations. This experience gives you additional insight into your field of interest along with opportunities to interact with professionals. Professional and honors organizations include:

- Delta Sigma Pi – worldwide professional business fraternity for men and women This professional business fraternity of men and women worldwide has been organized to foster the study of business in universities, to encourage scholarship and social activity, and to promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of business.
- Delta Epsilon Chi – the college business fraternity equivalent of DECA
- Dean's Leadership Council – a student advisory council to the Dean
- Accounting Society – an organization for Accounting majors
- Beta Gamma Sigma – the prestigious national business honor society
- Alpha Iota Delta – the national honor society for information and decision sciences

