

CHOOSE A REWARDING MAJOR

You can major in one of five separate degrees or work with your Communication advisor to create an Individualized major in such areas as sports communication, graphics communication, modern media and film, Internet communication, and others. Internships are required for most majors.

The links at the left will take you to more information about each major: Communication Law, New Media-Journalism, Public & Corporate Communication, Public Relations, Television-Radio, and Individualized.
