

The continued success of Valparaiso University and its Colleges depends on their personal commitment and active involvement of a select group of individuals who embrace the privilege to serve and the responsibility to lead. National Council members are expected to be zealous advocates on behalf of VU, enthusiastic communicators of our mission and vision, and to play an integral role in the development and leadership of the College.