Note: Performances should be entirely in German, with the lines memorized. The decisions of the judges should take this into account.

Acoustic Clarity:

Actors spoke loudly and distinctly enough. German pronunciation was accurate enough to allow for good comprehension.

Accurate German:

Grammatical structures were accurate. Vocabulary was used correctly. Intonation corresponded to meaning and helped audience comprehension.

Dramatic Performance:

Students used the stage (didn't simply stand to recite lines). Gesture and motion were appropriate. Costumes and props contributed to presentation.
