VALPARAISO UNIVERSITY GRADUATE DIVISION

POLICY FOR LAW STUDENTS ENROLLING IN COURSEWORK OUTSIDE OF THE LAW SCHOOL

POLICY FOR LAW STUDENTS

Law students who wish to take courses in the graduate or undergraduate programs at Valparaiso University must apply to be admitted as a graduate student through the Office of Graduate Studies. Students enrolled in the full-time law program may take up to a cumulative total of 6 credits (no more than 3 credits each semester) in the graduate or undergraduate division during either the fall or spring semesters at no additional charge above the full-time law tuition.

Law students taking graduate or undergraduate credits during the fall or spring semester above the cumulative total of 6 credits will be charged the per credit graduate tuition rate for the specific program for each additional credit. Exceptions to the 6-credit limit may be granted by the Dean of the Graduate Division.

Law students taking courses in the graduate or undergraduate programs during either of the summer sessions will be charged the per credit graduate tuition rate for the specific program for each course. If they are concurrently taking law courses in the summer, law students will be charged the law tuition rate for each law course.

Students enrolled in the part-time law program who wish to concurrently take graduate or undergraduate courses during the fall or spring semesters will be charged the law tuition rate for law courses and the graduate tuition rate for the specific program for graduate courses, unless otherwise noted.

GRADUATE STUDENTS IN DUAL DEGREE PROGRAMS WITH LAW

Because dual degree programs provide significant savings in tuition, time, and credit hours through mutual exchange of credit, law students in such programs are not extended the courtesy of 6 credits in the graduate or undergraduate division during either fall or spring semester at no additional charge. Exceptions may be requested to the Dean of Graduate Studies for graduate and undergraduate coursework that does not apply to the graduate degree. Generally, students carrying a mixed load of law and graduate credits may not take more than 18 credit hours per semester.

JD/MBA students enrolled in a mixed course load (i.e., in both Law and MBA courses) will pay the lesser of either the per credit hour rate for the number of credits taken that semester in each program, or the full-time JD tuition rate for that same semester. Specifically, the tuition for a student taking a mixed course load will not exceed the one semester full-time JD tuition rate.

Students enrolled in the JD/MBA program pay the graduate general fee while enrolled solely in the MBA program. Once beginning law school, students pay the general fee of the Law School until they have completed their law program.

JD/ MBA students may take no more than 15 credits per semester (fall and spring) while enrolled in the MBA program only and no more than 18 credits per semester (fall and spring) once beginning Law School. Students enrolled in summer sessions may take no more than 14 credits, only 7 of which may be Law credits.
