

WEB PRESENTATIONS

The University Guild hosts web presentations on University related topics. By broadcasting over the Internet, attendees can have Valpo come to them. People may attend as individuals at their home computer or as a group in a central location such as a church, library, or office.

Upcoming web presentations:

Talking VALPO to Students and Families - November 1, 2009 at 4 pm (central) - Barbara Lieske from the Office of Admission will present on what prospective students and families want to know about Valpo. This will educate attendees on how to support the University's recruitment efforts. Cost: Free. Length: 20-30 minutes.

Creating an Environment that Promotes Creativity and Innovation - January 31, 2010 at 4 pm (central) - Doug Tougaw, Ph.D., Richardson Professor of Engineering, will share information on unleashing creativity. This presentation is ideal for anyone with an interest in developing their creativity. Dr. Tougaw is nationally-recognized for his scholarship on ethics and emerging technology. Cost: $25. Length: 60 minutes. (Proceeds benefit Valpo students through the Guild Endowment Fund.)

Web Presentation Archive:

VU Guild: Students Give Us Purpose (August 2009) - An overview on what the University Guild does to support Valparaiso University. Presented by Kelley Madden and Carolyn Hanes. Length: 25 minutes.

Athletics Update (April 2008) - An update on Valparaiso University Athletics program and the talent of Valpo's student athletes. Presented by Mark LaBarbera. Length: 45 minutes.