

WHY IT FELLOWS?

Click Here to Apply to the IT Fellows Program Today!

More than ever employers are hiring talented individuals who display professional polish, technical sophistication, and creativity. The IT Fellows Program is tailored around creating individuals of this nature through its dynamic offerings, including a hands-on internship, and comprehensive training programs.

Fellows gain hands-on, real-world experience in a close mentoring environment that facilitates their growth in the best way possible. Fellows will not only gain valuable work experience in cutting edge fields, but will also have the expertise of those running a CIO-100 Information Technology department at their disposal.

During your experience in the program, you will work on cutting edge projects for the department that best aligns with your interests. As you gain leadership skills and work on these projects, you will gain professional experience, all while you earn the degree of your choice. While gaining this extensive professional experience, you will work a flexible schedule with an orientation on academics.

Students of all majors and areas of interest are encouraged to apply. The pervasive nature of technology in everyone's life makes the experiences gained in the IT Fellows Program valuable to any major, and applicable to any future career. Apply to the IT Fellows Program now to ensure that you don't get left behind.
