

ACADEMICS

The Valparaiso University School of Law provides a comprehensive and intensive study of the law's foundations, an introduction to its many substantive areas, and the opportunity for advanced study in areas of student interest. Four distinct strands of legal education run through the coursework: legal analysis, practical training, perspectives on the law, and legal writing and research.

At Valparaiso Law we view the law as a calling, not just a career. We provide a rigorous education founded on the enduring core competencies, an exceptional legal research and writing program and a wealth of clinics, all delivered through a highly personal manner of teaching and learning. At Valparaiso Law you will find an environment that focuses on your success.

The education that you will receive at Valparaiso Law is in one word, exceptional. You will graduate from Valparaiso Law as a highly-trained lawyer with a bright future, capable of practicing law anywhere with the ability to pass the bar exam across the United States.