

Valparaiso University's Graduate School of Business operates on a rolling admission basis with 6 different start terms throughout the year.

Students are encouraged to apply at any point throughout the year. Students are admitted as their applications become complete on a first come, first served basis as long as there is space available.

When applying to a business school, you are required to take the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT), a standardized test used by universities to evaluate an applicant's academic performance. For more information on the GMAT, please visit www.gmat.com.

Our next available start date for U.S. Citizens and Permanent Residents is Summer I or May 17, 2010. The deadline to apply is May 7, 2010. Our next available start date for International students is Summer II or June 28. The deadline to apply is April 23, to allow time for visa processing.

Admission decisions are made on a holistic basis with consideration given to undergraduate/post-undergraduate academic performance, professional work experience, letters of recommendation, and the GMAT.
