

CONVENIENCE IS THE HALLMARK

- Rolling admissions with six start terms throughout the year
- Eight week course blocks
- Evening classes Monday-Thursday, one night per week per class

The graduate business programs target the educational needs of leaders working in an integrated, technology-driven world. These needs include technical competency in all the functional areas of business, a clear understanding of the 21st century business environment, and a strong foundation in values-based leadership. The program objective is to educate competent, ethical business leaders to have a positive impact on people, organizations, the community, and the natural environment.

Part-time students who qualify for the accelerated 38 credit program can finish their MBA in two calendar years.

Part-time students without an undergraduate business foundation or the appropriate business experience typically finish the program between three and five years.

Full-time students who qualify for the accelerated 38 credit program can finish their MBA in one calendar year. Full-time students without an undergraduate business foundation or the appropriate business experience can also finish the program in one year, but more typically finish in 18 months.
