

ACTIVITY OF THE WEEK

Four nursing students and two faculty members attended the Midwest Nursing Research Society's Annual Research Conference in Kansas City in April. Professors Nola Schmidt and Carole Pepa accompanied BSN student Sheryl Staub, and graduate students Suzanne Smith, Roxanne Wolfram, and Dana Robinson as they presented their research posters at the event. "They got to see the high level work of others, and they attended presentations they were interested in regarding their own practice," Pepa said. "They all got a lot out of it."

