This team of over 700 alumni and parent volunteers connects thousands of prospective students to the world of Valpo. VAN members are found at college fairs, hosting Valpo's receptions for prospective students, and chatting with students in their churches. VAN members are friendly and knowledgeable individuals who want to help prospective students learn more about Valparaiso University.

The VAN offers volunteer opportunities where you can share Valpo facts and stories. And the time you invest is controlled by you! Membership lasts for an academic year, and members may opt out during the annual re-enrollment time in the early Fall.
