I love biology, chemistry, and health sciences; but those classes tend to be designed for the individual, involving memorizing facts and applying concepts for specific applications. Christ College classes are about being human and part of a group — the community I found in Christ College is unlike any other. I created amazing friendships within my cohort and was guaranteed a thought-provoking conversation each week. Even though it was sometimes challenging to balance both the PA program and Christ College, I would do it all over again.
