Open Nursing Faculty Positions

Valparaiso University College of Nursing and Health Professions invites applications for tenure-track and non-tenure track nursing faculty positions. Valparaiso University (“Valpo”), a community of learning grounded in the Lutheran tradition of scholarship, freedom, and faith, prepares students to lead and serve both church and society. Located one hour southeast of Chicago on a 310-acre campus, Valpo is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of over 3,100 undergraduate and graduate students. Valpo is consistently recognized as one of the best private universities in the Midwest and is located in Valparaiso, Indiana, a county seat of 30,000 residents with high quality schools and an active social community.

These positions are full time, 9 month appointments, beginning August 2022. The responsibilities of these positions include teaching undergraduate/graduate courses in the BSN, MSN, and DNP programs. Additional responsibilities will include working collaboratively with faculty and leadership within the CONHP and the university; working with students either individually or in groups, depending on the need; providing service to the university, profession, and the practice community; and developing a research and scholarly agenda of contributions to the field. The successful candidate for the tenure track position will hold an earned doctorate in nursing. The successful candidate for the non-tenure track position will preferably hold a doctorate, but must have a masters degree in nursing. These positions are announced at the assistant professor level, but outstanding candidates could be considered at a higher rank with multiple years of teaching experience, an established research agenda, and scholarly accomplishments.

Candidates should be interested in working at a university engaged in issues in Christian higher education in the Lutheran tradition. The College of Nursing and Health Professions has programs in nursing (BSN, MSN, and DNP), health care leadership (BSHCL), health administration (MHA), public health (BSPH and MPH), physician assistant studies (BSHS and MPA), and occupational therapy (DrOT, OTD).

As a campus with an increasingly diverse student body, we encourage applications from individuals with a commitment to mentoring students from underrepresented communities. Please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, scholarship statement, and contact information for three references to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/108331>. In your cover letter, please include brief statements of (a) how you might contribute to the university’s distinctive mission, and (b) what experiences you have had which will enable you to mentor a diverse student body. Candidates who submit names of references should expect that the search committee will contact these references, in confidence, and that credentials will be confirmed prior to hire. Employment will require a satisfactory criminal background check. Applications will be considered until the position is filled. For specific questions or additional information about the search, contact Dr. Lynette Rayman at lynette.rayman@valpo.edu or 219.548.7796.

Valparaiso University does not unlawfully discriminate and aims to employ persons of various backgrounds and experiences to develop and support its diverse community. Its entire EOE policy can be found at: <http://www.valpo.edu/general-counsel/policies/equal-opportunity-policy/>.
