Volunteer to Be Interviewed

Prof. Albaro of "CORE: The Human Experience" (a class taken by many freshmen at VU) would like to have her students interview some people who are different from them in many ways, so she is looking for international students would be interested in being interviewed (virtually or in-person) about their culture, home country, and their life now on campus. Also, this gives you an awesome chance to:

- make new friends on campus.
- let more people know about your culture.
- learn more about American culture.
