Tenure-Track Meteorology Faculty Position

The Department of Geography and Meteorology at Valparaiso University announces a tenure-track faculty position at the assistant professor level beginning August, 2016. Candidates must have a strong background in teaching undergraduate meteorology. The successful candidate will teach courses in areas that include general meteorology, physical meteorology, instrumentation, satellite meteorology, and especially, aviation meteorology. Additionally, the ideal candidate should have a substantial operational background. At the time of appointment, applicants should possess a Ph.D in meteorology or atmospheric science and a strong desire and ability to excel in undergraduate teaching, advising, and scholarly work in a large, dynamic program.

We are looking for excellent teachers first and foremost. Additional information concerning the department, its people, and facilities can be found at http://www.valpo.edu/meteorology. Candidates should be interested in working at a university engaged in issues of Christian higher education in the Lutheran tradition. Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to cultural diversity and the ability to work with individuals or groups from diverse backgrounds. In addition to strong academic qualifications and excellence in teaching, the University highly values experience in working across cultural and other significant differences. Please submit a statement of teaching philosophy, CV, complete college transcripts, and contact information for three references to Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/32218. Employment at Valparaiso University will require a satisfactory criminal background check. Applications will be considered until the position is filled and must be received by November 30, 2015 for full consideration.

Valparaiso University does not unlawfully discriminate and aims to employ persons of various backgrounds and experiences to develop and support a diverse community. Its entire EOE policy can be found at http://www.valpo.edu/equalopportunity/index.php.
