

Assistant Professor of Psychology

Valparaiso University invites applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position in our Department of Psychology. The position will begin August 2018.

We are seeking candidates who have earned a doctorate in Psychology although candidates who are ABD will also be considered. A background in Clinical Psychology or clinically related research is preferred. Teaching responsibilities will be primarily at the undergraduate level, with preferred ability to teach one or more of the following courses: Neuroscience/Biopsychology, Human Sexuality, Abnormal Psychology, Testing and Measurement, Health Psychology, Psychotherapy and Counseling, and Professional Development.

Candidates should be interested in working at a university engaged in issues in Christian higher education in the Lutheran tradition. In addition to strong academic qualifications and excellence in teaching, the University highly values experience in working across cultural and other significant differences. Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to cultural diversity and the ability to work with individuals or groups from diverse backgrounds.
