Associate Professor and Director in School Psychology

The Department of Education at Valparaiso University invites applications for an Associate Professor and Program Director in School Psychology. This position will start August of 2016. This full-time appointment will include a predominantly graduate teaching load, field-supervision, and directorship of the School Psychology graduate program. Preference will be given to applicants at the rank of Associate Professor who are NASP-certified and have completed a Ph.D. in School Psychology. Candidates at the rank of Assistant Professor may apply and will be considered for appointment at the Associate rank based on experience.

Valparaiso University does not unlawfully discriminate and aims to employ persons of various backgrounds and experiences to develop and support a diverse community. Its entire EOE policy can be found at http://www.valpo.edu/equalopportunity/index.php. Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to cultural diversity and the ability to work with individuals or groups from diverse backgrounds. In addition to strong academic qualifications and excellence in teaching, the University highly values experience in working across cultural and other significant differences. At the same time, candidates should be interested in working at a university engaged in issues in Christian higher education in the Lutheran tradition. Employment at Valparaiso University will require a satisfactory criminal background check.

Complete applications should contain a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, and transcripts. Applicants may also provide samples of scholarship if this is available. Applications should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/32016. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2015.
